Dear Dr. Sparrows:

I was glad to learn from Dr. LeRoy that you are willing to accept appointment to the ad hoc committee for planning biologic aspects of future atomic tests and that you can attend a meeting lasting about three days from June 7, 1949.

This Committee will have the important responsibility of setting up the protocol for observations in the field of Biology and Medicine, which it is desirable to make in future tests.

Other members of the Committee will be:

- George V. LeRoy, Chairman, radiobiologist, Hines Hospital, Chicago
- Leon C. Jacobsen, hematologist, Argonne National Laboratory, Chicago
- Jacob Furth, pathologist, Veterans Administration Hospital, Dallas, Texas
- Ray Zirkle, radiobiologist, University of Chicago
- W. D. Armstrong, biochemist, University of Minnesota
- Col. James P. Cooney, Chief, Radiological Branch, Atomic Energy Commission
- Capt. A. E. Drueger, radiobiologist, Naval Medical Center, Bethesda, Maryland
- D. E. Dill, physiologist, Edgewood Arsenal
- S. L. Clark, Neuroanatomist, Vanderbilt University

You will be given an appointment as Consultant to the Division of Biology and Medicine of the Atomic Energy Commission and as such you will receive compensation at the rate of $50.00 per day, plus travel and subsistence allowance. This compensation is not to be considered in addition to any compensation currently being received from an Atomic Energy Commission facility. Leave without pay from such employment should be arranged for all periods of service on this Committee.
