Dr. Bigher -

CDR Cronkite called this morning while you were at Current Activities. Said he was leaving in the morning to go back to Nevada; had talked with Mr. Corsbie yesterday - and wanted merely to call your attention to the fact that orders are now being written transferring key enlisted personnel who have been working on the test operations. He thought you would like to know this because if it is contemplated that the Navy will be asked for help in future continental tests it would be well to apprise the Surgeon General of the fact so the present team can be held together. He said one of the team had already received orders...so he feels the matter is of some urgency.

James - I think a copy of the letter to Cmdr. Cronkite would be appropriate.
