3. Public Announcement Regarding IVY

The Commission discussed the type of announcement which should be made following IVY. Mr. Murray commented upon the possible differences in the situation which might exist if the experiment indicated that the reaction was in the nature of a real thermonuclear explosion rather than that of a boosted fission weapon. In the former case special consideration should be given to international repercussions. Mr. Dean then outlined the position he planned to take in the NSC meeting as to a public announcement.
